Importance of Trinity River.

Information from various sources has at last settled the whereabouts of the Trinity mines. So far as these placeres have been worked, it has been done upon the south branch of a river emptying into the ocean in latitude 41 degrees and 34 minutes. This main stream is navigable for large steamers up to within fifteen miles of the diggings. There is no mistake in this matter, for the river and its capacities have been thoroughly examined to the mouth of the southern fork.

What, then, is the rational inference? That this river must be the channel through which the large and increasing population, upon its head waters, will receive their supplies. If, as all accounts concur in representing, gold is found in the usual abundance of California placeres upon the south fork of the Trinity, it is but a fair conclusion that other streams north of this, and helping to form the main stream below, are equally rich in the precious metal.

Should actual examination show this to be the truth, a tide of emigration will set thitherward within two months equal to the current now sweeping to the branches of the Sacramento, or the waters of the San Joaquin.

Such a new outlet for the expenditure of capital and energy will have a marked and favorable influence upon the business of San Francisco. The trade from this port to the mouth of the Trinity, will in a few months be second only to the commerce now carried on between this point and the northern mines.

Steamers and sailing craft will find an increased demand for their services in the transportation of passengers and supplies, while numbers of the former will find constant employment in the trade of the river, from its mouth to the head of its navigable waters.

These things are not at all improbable Nothing is improbable in California, and we venture the assertion with a full belief in its realization, that the end of three months will see more than one steamboat plying regularly upon the waters of Trinity river.

"The good Old Rules."

A friend lately told us of a transaction which sometime ago took place in one of the southern mines, which is so emblematic of American character, that we cannot forbear being its chronicler.

During last fall, in the southern diggings, where a number of Chilians and other foreigners were at work, two of the former were accused of having stolen some dust from a camp in the neighborhood. They were complained of before the Alcalde, a writ was issued, and they were forthwith arraigned. A jury of six miners were empanelled, the culprits called upon to defend themselves as best they might, and a trial was gone into. The testimony was entirely circumstantial; and considering the fact that conviction for theft was then (and would very likely be now,) death, hardly sufficient to warrant a verdict. But after a lengthened hearing, the Alcalde summed up the evidence, and from the tenor of the charge, in a short time the jury returned a verdict of guilty

As justice was as prompt as any thing else in California, the next business in order was to prepare to carry the sentence into effect; for, bear it in mind, that there were no pleas to the jurisdictions, flaws in the indictments, &c., in the courts of miners. A guard was detailed to keep the prisoners in custody, while another party set about erecting the gallows; for the next day at twelve, the final penalty of the law was to be enforced. The intended execution was soon noised abroad, and quite a large crowd collected from the neighboring gulches to witness the scene.

The prisoners were seated on a log near the spot the gallows was staring them in the face- one of them was crying for mercy in the most intense agony, which may be supposed of one who was so soon to close his mortal career, while the other beheld the preparations with the indifference of a stoic. Curiosity led many to enquire into the charges against them, and the manner of trial; and very soon a murmur was general among the Americans present, that all was not right—that these men had not been tried according to law! They said that no man should be tried for a capital offence where they were, unless by twelve jurors—the accused also to have counsel for his defence, and the benefit of all doubts in the evidence.

This feeling soon expressed itself in a general call for a new trial! Another court was immediately organized, a jury of a full dozen empanelled, learned counsel employed on both sides, also a sworn interpreter, and a trial gone into with as strict a regard to the positive rules of law and evidence, as ever were followed by any tribunal among civilized men; for, bear it in mind, there were those who took part in these proceedings, who have filled judgment seats at home. The trial lasted most of the day, and at the close, the jury retired after receiving a proper charge as to the law of the case. In a few minutes they returned, bringing in a verdict of not guilty. It is unnecessary to say how the poor hombres received this reprieve—but at least, they retired with a high opinion of the justice of los Americanos.

Port Trinidad.

Letters by the Mallory, from this point, afford a few interesting items.

The enterprising people there were busy in opening a road to the Trinity. It is completed as far as the bald hills near Little River. This stream, about two hundred feet wide, is nicely bridged by a giant of the forest, on which men and animals cross in safety. It is thought that this road will reduce the distance to the mines to one hundred miles, whereas now, persons in following the old trail travel one hundred and fifty.

Several parties have recently arrived at Trinidad from the mines, and they all report favorably of the diggings. Notwithstanding the high waters, persons are making one and two ounces a day Diggers up to this time have confined themselves to the south fork of the Trinity.

CHARACTERISTIC OF THE MAN.—While the Sierra Nevada was lying at Trinity river, a portion of the expedition that had gone up the stream on a tour of exploration, returned, one of their number having been drowned, and four others having fallen, it was feared, into the power of the Indians. Capt. Edwards immediately had his boats manned, and was on the point of starting in search of the lost ones, when, fortunately, they arrived at the mouth of the stream, safe and sound.—This is just what we should expect from the known character of the man, and it is fortunate that he has on board his gallant craft a crew every way worthy of him, and who are as ready to second his efforts in behalf of the unfortunate, as he himself to make the proposition.

DRUGS, MEDICINES, &c.—We yesterday called at the store of C. C. Richmond & Co., on Jackson street, below Montgomery, and were taken by surprise to see their large and varied stock. We were not prepared to see yet in California such a heavy investment in this line: but their foresight has been well rewarded, for there is a large up-country demand for these articles, and we believe their transactions to be equal to most other branches of trade in the city. In addition to the above, they have a large assortment of fancy perfumery, bijouterie, &c. We advise the public to give them a call.

EXPRESS LINE TO SAN JOSE.—We refer our friends who may wish to travel to the Capital, or who have business there, to the advertisement of Messrs. Berford & Co., in another column. This enterprising firm have always excelled in energy and promptitude; and with their names connected with the undertaking, there is every assurance of public accommodation.

IMPORTANT SUIT, VERY!—At Justice Brown's court, 2d township, quite an interesting trial took place on Tuesday last; or at least we judged it important, from the able counsel employed in the action. The suit was brought by Mrs. Margaret L. Robinson against Mrs. Sarah Ewing, on a bill for washing. A cross action against Mrs. Robinson takes place this morning, for not returning all the articles she took away. Mrs. R. is a boss in the washing line, and has in her employ a lean little freckled Irish woman, named Biddy Raft, who is the main witness for the defence. Biddy's testimony in the other trial was of the richest kind, and we think it will be equally so this morning, as she goes over the same ground, with a few additions. Try and be there.

☞ The Sub-marine Telegraph between England and France is progressing towards completion, if not already completed. The insulated wires were expected to be sunk across the Channel during the month of April past, while the tower for the battery offices and general works at Dover, was nearly erected previously.

☞ The application for an injunction to issue, restraining Alderman Gillespie from the exercise of the functions of his office pending the proceedings upon a writ of quo warranto, was argued yesterday before the Superior Court. The object of the writ is to test the right of Mr. Gillespie to a seat in the Common Council. The decision of the Court will be given this morning.

INJUNCTION AGAINST THE HARBOR MASTER.—This case came up in the Superior Court, before Judge Morse, yesterday. We understand that Mr Hagan was held to have committed a contempt of court, and will be called up this morning for the penalty of the court to be pronounced CALIFORNIA JEHUS.—Yesterday, the opposition stage came from San Jose to this city in six hours!

NOT DEAD YET.—Our cotemporaries yesterday morning had the sad intelligence of the capture and probable death of four persons while engaged in exploring Trinity river. It affords us pleasure to state that the persons alluded to are safe, and that one, Mr. Bidleman, was in our office probably at the moment our neighbors were penning the account of his capture by the savages, and probable murder.

We extract from a letter brought by the Sierra Nevada, so much as relates to the affair:

"After the upsetting of the canoes, the boys were robbed of nearly every thing they had; two of the boats were lost. Seven of the party jumped into the remaining one, and pushed out into the stream. The other four engaged an Indian to bring them down; but as soon as they were in the canoe, the Indian pulled for the other shore; the other seven, in the mean time, keeping on their way down the stream as fast as possible. The four, Messrs. Bidleman, Johnson, Maxwell and Bauchman, were driven again from the canoe, and completely robbed of every thing about their persons. They then put for the mountains, making the best of their way down the river until nearly ten o'clock in the night, when they laid down without either blankets or fire, and nearly naked.

In the morning they renewed their march, and about ten o'clock reached the banks of the river, where they determined to procure a canoe, if they had to kill an Indian to get it.

They, however, met a friendly Indian coming down the river, who brought them safely, arriving here in the afternoon of the same day, ragged, worn, and almost starved.

Before this, however, Capt. Edwards had manned a boat, mostly from his own vessel, furnished her with provisions and arms, and was just starting in search for the lost ones, as they arrived. We were rejoiced to see them, I assure you."

☞ The steamer Senator arrived at her wharf last night between ten and eleven o'clock, eight hours from Sacramento city. At her departure the waters were still rising, and the sloughs in the rear of the city were full, but it was the general belief that the city itself was in no danger of an overflow.

☞ It will be seen in our columns, that the Gold Hunter is up for Mazatlan. We regret she has left the Sacramento route, as she was the "queen o' boats," in this trade.

☞ NEW PRODUCTION.—Eleven camels have been brought from the Canary Islands to the United States, for the purpose of testing whether they can be raised and acclimated in the West. Overland emigrants to California will find them of advantage, if there are any left to emigrate when the eleven increase to a liberal supply.

From our Correspondent.

YUBA CITY, May 17, 1850.

Editor of the Pacific News:

Dear Sir—The prospects of mining in California never looked brighter than this coming season. Every day brings news of some new discovery on Feather and Yuba rivers. A large quantity of quartz rock has been discovered, said to have yielded $4 to two ounces of quartz; the precise location of which I am not at liberty to disclose at present. There are many discoveries of dry and wet diggings, suitable discoveries for damming, &c., taking place daily, together with facilities for working not hitherto enjoyed. There are now good stopping places every few miles on all the roads to the different mines in this section of country, with trading posts and every convenience to be had in the country. Those wishing to go to the mines can buy teams, pack mules, hire their hauling done, or go by stage, and buy provisions in the mines.

As to landed interests there has been five or six towns laid out on Feather river, north of this place, but it is too late in the season to sell lots, as the first day of August will leave them far above Salmon Trout navigation, until the December rains commence. Feather and Yuba rivers united, barely afford twenty-two inches of water at its lowest stage, and towns laid out above, must come down to Yuba City or Marysville, from three and a half to four months in the year. Here we have a slight advantage over our neighbor, Marysville, as the water in the Yuba is too shallow to float anything larger than a good sized whale boat. To be sure they can take their goods from our lower landing in small boats, but I hardly think merchants will hire their goods taken two miles up the river, and sell them for the same price, (when it is just as easy for the consumer to take them from the steamboat landing,) merely because one town got a little the start when navigation was equally good for a long distance above either place. There is room, however, for speculation in any of the towns on Feather river. It is not only the most beautiful stream, but the healthiest and most fertile valley in Northern California; embracing nearly all the farming land from its junction with the Sacramento, to the foot of the mountains; or at least for two hundred and fifty miles above the junction, which by the Sacramento, would take you to Lawson's Rancho, which is the nearest point that does not overflow, and it not only overflows, but stays flooded for four or five months of the winter and spring. I say these things without fear of contradiction, as I have been upon the ground both in the dry and wet season; but there are other inducements for families to settle in the up river towns. We have in Yuba City about thirty families, a good school of 25 or 30 children, and probably the same number that do not attend. Society is becoming quite pleasant, as we have numerous parties, balls, &c., and two weeks from to-day, Friday night, the 31st inst., we will open a large Hotel with the best ball ever given on Feather river. The room is seventy-two feet long by twenty in width. Yours, G.

Notes of Travel through Lower California.

NUMBER TWO.

There is a harbor at the Cape within some very lofty columnar rocks of a cream color, and which have a very picturesque appearance, but the anchorage is not good. The bottom is of solid rock and smooth, or of sand, and the water is of very unequal depth, now two fathoms, and then close at land, forty, and even more. One or two families live at the Cape cultivating a little ground and raising some cattle and horses. All the men had gone "por l'Alta, a l'abonancia," as they in their patois uniformly term this country and its gold mines. The women and children remained behind. They had just received letters, via Mazatlan, from some of their relatives, giving a narrative of their journey hither, the mines, etc.; but as no one of them could read a word, they were keeping them to take to San Jose, or Todos Santos, or till some one chanced to come along, as I did, to unlock the casket. I read them all to a very attentive auditory, and what were some of the various details of a daughter married here in her letter to her mother, it does not become me here to relate. Suffice it, they were all full of affectionate concern for those left behind, and calculated to impress me by their pictures of domestic happiness, with the fact, which some have seemed to doubt, that in sober truth our Mexican neighbors have, indeed, souls, and are of "like passions as we are." In parting as I did with these families the next day, I bore with me many tokens of their good will, and many greetings (muchas saludes) to the friends here. Six of our party went to San Jose and took passage kindly offered them gratis, in the Scotch bark Colluna. They reached San Francisco, in a little more than five weeks. The remaining four of us went to Todos Santos, up the Peninsula, as I have already stated, 60 miles. This journey we performed in two and a half days on foot, carrying all the baggage we could contrive to take. Our funds had at last come short. Out of $500, with which we each started, all but a little had been filched away by our gentlemanly companions; to whose skill and devices, we had often been so much indebted, at various points in the journey, when cash was specially important to enable him to keep up appearances. Dear souls! if it would benefit the public a whit, I might give their names, now quite unknown to fame! But I let them pass to a more august tribunal.

We could not find suitable animals nearer than Padre Gabriel's, at the Mission of Todos Santos. In the winter before, they had all been bought up and driven off—por l'alta, to the Upper [Country.] A horse formerly worth five dollars, then readily brought twenty, and a mule at the same time sixty; and but few could be had at any price. The route from the cape lay along the crests and intervening vallies which are found between either coast at that part of the peninsula. For six or ten miles, we ascended an inclined plane of easy grade continually, after leaving the harbor at the cape. This slope is covered with a growth of timber of small size, interspersed with enormous cactuses, living and dead; and for a "site for a town," in our phrase here, is altogether unsurpassed by anything I ever beheld.

Sketchings and Musings of a Miner.

NUMBER ONE.

Hawkins' Bar—Tuolumne—Chinese Mountain—Buck Mountain—A promise of something on Solitude.

Stranger, if you go to the southern mines, do not forget to call at Hawkins' Bar, at least for a day or two. Much is to be gathered here, much besides gold. The mountains and plains, rugged rocks and flowers mingle up the sublime and beautiful all around you. If you love nature and her Creator, on every side you will find altars to kneel at and worship the great God who erected them. No church built with human hands, by its architectural proportions, by its pictorial decorations, ever inspired such deep toned feeling of adoration as will move you here. Form, light and shadow were never so displayed and mixed by mortal. No eloquence of human tongue, can so elevate the soul, so calm its wild passions as the still voice that preaches here.

Arrived at the Bar, enquire for Taylor's Camp. It is a mile or more above the general tenting ground. Being there, go still further up until you find yourself upon a rocky path,—you will know the path, for it is well worn by the tramp of miners coming and going, while delving for golden ore. Then look northeast where the swift Tuolumne rushes through a canon. You will gaze long upon its waters. They are so limpid, and then look so wild and joyous, like a young boy just dressed in his holy-day suit, with his bright curls playing with the zephys sportively running and leaping about. If your soul is not too deeply absorbed with the past or future, from the west margin of the river lift your eyes slowly. Mark the huge rocks and follow them up, up, and still up, piled one upon another, until you behold the craggy precipice that looks down from the summit of the mountain there. You cannot control the eye now You will look up and beyond into the cerulean heaven to see if God's countenance is not beaming on you so heavenly is the charm. This is Chinese mountain; so called from it being chief of the family as you go thence to the Chinese diggings, five miles north. Turn now to the east. Not so bleak and bold, but craggy with rocks torn and riven as if earthquake power had severed them, another mountain rises for thousands of feet. The first feeling of awe which fills you is soon subdued into the more agreeable one beauty, mingled with the sublime, inspires. The green mantle of verdure, now and then rent by projecting masses of stone and the pine growing there, soften its rough features. There has been some rare sport upon and around this mountain. It is called Buck mountain from a battle had upon it between some huntsmen and a large and hugely athletic stag, that was wont to ramble here monarch of his tribe. Ask some miner who last winter encamped here; he will tell you how the "swift footed" was headed off; how he came to bay when he could no longer retreat; how, when their guns were all discharged, huntsmen and he closed in and fought and struggled hard, fell and tumbled down the mountain side and lodged and hung among the rocks and trees, and broke away again, and fell and caught again, and fell until at the base they all prostrated lay, exhausted and wounded sorely. It was rare sport, but the buck got his death by it.

Go further up the river, not far, some two hundred yards perhaps. Stop where you see some enormous rocks thrown together, heaved from the mountain brow, by some convulsion, leaving a chasm there. Do not be afraid to step upon them; they are firmly locked together like brother giants, who, falling together, embraced in death. Pass over them. Never fear, though it would seem that the moving of the smallest stone wedged under them would hurl the pile into the river below. But there is no danger, for I have gone over them, and worked under them daily for weeks.—Being beyond them, turn and look under. There is a cove. Go into it, stranger, and wait till I come again, and I will tell you how wretched and happy it is to be alone. For here I delved long with no companion but God.

MOUTH OF THE TRINITY, May 13, 1850.

I was agreeably surprised on Saturday by "our marine reporter," a Nimrod of the forest, a "mighty hunter" before the "pale faces," that a "yacht" had crossed the breakers and was safe anchored in our beautiful harbor. Upon enquiry I learned she was the Laura Virginia, Captain Ottinger, from Trinidad. She was probably the first vessel that dropped an anchor inside the bar within the remembrance of that celebrated gentleman, the "oldest inhabitant" of the forest rangers. They looked on; my informant said, with wonder and astonishment depicted in every feature, when her bows parted the foam crested billows, and she rode through the breakers triumphantly like a "thing of life," not even wetting her deck.

Since my last, we have been looking with a good deal of anxiety for the return of a portion of our company who left here some six or eight days since to prospect the river as far up as where it is usually struck by those coming over from the head waters of the Sacramento. They will certainly be here in the course of a day or two, and I sincerely hope before the sailing of the Laura Virginia, by which vessel I shall forward these letters.

I am informed that the proprietors of the place, those hardy fellows who in imitation of a certain enterprising gentleman we read of in some old chronicle, who "went out from the land of his fathers and built a city," intend pursuing the most liberal course of policy to those who deem it a place worthy of their consideration. Really this is getting to be a place of some importance. I have just been called out of my "sanctum," that is to say from under a tree, where I had ensconced myself from the "noise and bustle usually attending the building of a new city," using my knees for a writing desk, to witness the arrival of another "yacht" into our beautiful bay. She came over the bar like a race horse, unfortunately losing her boat, as a very high sea was running. She is reported as the Sierra Nevada, Capt. L. B. Edwards, who without a pilot, or having first sounded the channel, crossed the bar where the breakers run the highest. In this Capt. Edwards has shown himself to be a fearless navigator and a gentleman possessing great energy and decision of character. The Sierra Nevada cleared from Port Trinidad, and I understand designs remaining here a few days, by which I shall be able to forward another letter, before which time I hope to hear from up the river. The Sierra Nevada brought up some dozen or twenty passengers from Port Trinidad, together with about twenty tons of freight.

Yours, truly, DIGGER, Jr.

Naval Reminiscence.

In the year 1814, I was attached to the United States corvette John Adams, as a midshipman, under the command of Capt. Samuel Angus, and sailed from New York in February of that year, for the North of Europe, having on board the venerated sage of Ashland, and several other gentlemen, his attaches, bound on the celebrated Ghent Mission, which resulted in peace between the United States and England. In Europe we received on board the lamented John Quincy Adams, and the Hon. Jonathan Russell, and proceeded onward. Mr. Clay was sea-sick most of the voyage, but Messrs. Adams and Russell, being accustomed to the "ocean billow," did not suffer in that way. One fine day, Messrs. Adams and Russell, desirous of whiling away a weary hour, laid a plan to go into the foretop and get Mr Clay there also, and also arranged beforehand, as a good joke, to have the topmen tie all the party to the weather-rigging as soon as they got there, and keep them tied up until they agreed to pay their footing, in other words, to give the topmen a "horn." Arrangements were accordingly made between our diplomatists, and off they started, Capt. Russell reaching the foretop over the foot-hooks, and Messrs. Adams and Clay through the lubber-hole. All arrived there, the process of tying them to the weather fore-topmast standing rigging took place, Mr. Clay struggling to oppose, the rest acquiescing, who soon promised to pay their footing, and were cut loose, but Mr. Clay remained stubborn and indignant, and could not be induced to promise anything. Things remained thus for some time; Messrs. Adams and Russell leaving Mr. Clay in the predicament, reached the deck, and Capt. Angus directed the men in the top to let Mr. Clay down. He came down, and then came the "tug of war." He could not be pacified at the outrage perpetrated on his dignity, and could not be induced to look upon the transaction as a jest. The consequence was, that he and Capt. Angus, and Messrs. Adams and Russell had a serious rupture. Time healed the incident between Mr. Clay and Mr. Russell, but not between Messrs. Adams and Clay. They were, during the rest of the voyage, at "dagger points," and it was currently reported and believed on board the corvette, that Mr. Clay had challenged Mr Adams to mortal combat. Arrived at Gottenburgh, in Sweden, the gentlemen went to different hotels. No duel, however, took place, and how this serio-comico affair was ultimately settled, "this deponent saith not" for want of knowledge in the premises. But, one thing is certain, the ultimatum was tragical in the extreme; complaint was made to the Secretary of the Navy against Capt. Angus' "unwarrantable conduct in permitting and conniving at the aforesaid insult to official dignity." Capt. Angus replied discourteously, on the strength of which he was suspended; he again rejoined, and was thereupon fully arrested under specific charges from the Secretary of the Navy. This drew forth from Capt. A. another angry rejoinder—his mind became deranged, and he ended the unhappy controversy by committing suicide, while in command of the New York Navy Yard.

ANOTHER NICE BIT OF SCANDAL.—A very unique case or habeas corpus will, in all probability, be brought before a Judge at Chambers in the early part of the week, on a claim for an illegitimate child, aged about three years. The facts, as the reporter has been informed, are, that a young lady of respectable connections in upper-tendom became illegitimately enciente, and having a married sister, she made her a confidante. The latter made the foolish girl promise to give up the little responsibility to the wife, and she would contrive for it to pass as her own. The ruse was successful, and both ladies emerged from their confinement as well as could be expected, both in health, morals and manners. In a year or more afterwards, the younger sister also got a husband, but not having any children by her second love, she pines for the first, and she now seeks to reclaim the lone child, which has grown to be a very interesting and promising little creature, rising three years of age. There! if these facts turn out to be facts, we rather think this will be the most romantic city item which has appeared lately.—N. Y. Star.

PLUMAS CITY.

THIS flourishing town needs no puffing, for there can scarcely be one having been in California one month who is ignorant of the important stand Plumas is to take among her sister townships. Being located so immediately in the midst of the rich mines of Bear river, Dry creek, Rough and Ready, Gold river, Yuba and Deer creek. The rich diggings of the Bear river, just discovered, are within fourteen miles. To all these mines the roads are remarkably level, being over prairie land. The finest red brick clay is there in abundance, and timber to last for ages. Is situated on high land and beyond the possibility of overflow. Ninety-nine of the hundred who cross the plains this year will pass by Truckee river, and pass directly through Johnson's Rancho and Plumas City, where the richest soil and finest gazing land in the world is found. There is every inducement for traders to visit this town for the reason above named, and trade has taken an active start there, and already, although but five weeks since the first building was erected, there now are some twenty large frame buildings finished or nearly so, and occupied for merchandising, hotel, &c,, as also as many tent houses.

For the information of those just arriving in the country, the subscribers would state that Plumas City is situated on the east banks of the Feather river, about two and a half miles below Hock Farm, but on the opposite side, and seven miles above Bear river. All the steamers of light draught can run to this point the year round, and without doubt must prove the head of steam navigation through the summer and fall months. In the winter and spring, sail vessels drawing ten to twelve feet water, have no difficulty in navigating as high up the river as Plumas, when close along the banks in front of the town all winter could be found 16 to 22 feet of water. There are already over two hundred persons interested in this town, and increasing daily. Teams and horses are in readiness always to convey miners and their goods into the interior, at the lowest rates. The subscribers have erected their storehouses, and are storing miners trunks and chests for 50 cents per month.

The proprietors are not anxious to sell to speculators, but to actual settlers, who will find liberal inducement.

NEW DAILY Evening Paper in san Francisco—ROBERT D. FOX proposes to establish a daily newspaper in the city of san Francisco, to be issued every afternoon. The design of the paper will be to afford a reliable medium of information on all subjects of general and local interest; also to give full and accurate commercial and shipping intelligence up to the hour of publication each day. In a commercial community like ours, the utility of an evening paper, that will place the transactions of the day before the public immediately, must be apparent.

While the principal aim will be to give to the patrons of the proposed paper all the advantages of a strictly business publication, it should be understood that on questions of a political character, it will always be found a decided advocate of the principles and measures of the great democratic party of the Union.

The first number will appear on or about the first day of June next.

FIRE PROOF SAFES—Simmons, Hutchinson & co, agents: Edwards, Holman & co, the manufacturers: offer for sale an assortment of their fire-proof safes and chests, just landed, among which is one with double door, and suitable for a banker or for public Recorder.

The following is one of many certificates in our possession.

BOSTON, March 13, 1848.

Messrs. Edwards, Holman & co:

Gentlemen—Having been located in the block on Washington street where the great fire occurred on Friday night last, and being made sufferers by the event, we have the satisfaction to find that the contents of our safe, which is one of your manufacture, have not only been preserved, but are entirely uninjured.

It is our pleasure, therefore, to recommend your "Improved Salamander Safes" to the notice of the public, as being unquestionably "safe;" the fact of which we have fully tested. Respectfully yours,

AN ACT

FOR THE BETTER REGULATION OF THE MINES, AND THE GOVERNMENT OF FOREIGN MINERS.

The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. No person who is not a native or naturalized citizen of the United States, or who may not have become a citizen under the treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo, (all native California Indians excepted,) shall be permitted to mine in any part of this State, without having first obtained a license so to do according to the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 2. The Governor shall appoint a Collector of licenses to foreign miners for each of the mining counties, and for the county of San Francisco, who, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the oath required by the Constitution, and shall give his bond to the State with at least two good and sufficient sureties, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties, which bond shall be approved by the Governor and filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

Sec. 3. Each Collector of licenses to foreign miners shall be commissioned by the Governor.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller to cause to be printed or engraved a sufficient number of licenses, which shall be numbered consecutively, and shall be in form following, to wit:

"Number , (Date.) A. B., a citizen of , age years, complexion , is hereby licensed to work in the mines of California for the period of thirty days."

The Comptroller shall countersign each of such licenses, and shall transfer them to the Treasurer, keeping an account of the number so transferred.

Sec 5. The Treasurer shall sign and deliver to each Collector of licenses to foreign miners so many of the licenses mentioned in the preceding section as he shall deem proper, and shall take his receipt for the same and charge him therewith. Such Collector and his sureties shall be liable upon his bond for the number so furnished him, either for their return or the amount for which they may be sold; and the moneys collected, as herein provided, shall be paid into the treasury as prescribed in this Act.

Sec. 6. Every person required by the first section of this Act to obtain a license to mine, shall apply to the Collector of licenses to foreign miners and take out a license to mine, for which he shall pay the sum of twenty dollars per month; and such foreigners may from time to time take out a new license, at the same rate per month, until the Governor shall issue his proclamation announcing the passage of a law by Congess, regulating the mines of precious metals in this State.

Sec. 7. If any such foreigner or foreigners shall refuse or neglect to take out such license by the second Monday of May next, it shall be the duty of the Collector of licenses to foreign miners of the county in which such foreigner or foreigners shall be, to furnish his or their names to the Sheriff of the county, or to any Deputy Sheriff, whose duty it shall be to summon a posse of American citizens, and, if necessary, forcibly prevent him or them from continuing such mining operations.

Sec. 8. Should such foreigner or foreigners, after having been stopped by a Sheiff or Deputy Sheriff from mining in one place, seek a new location and continue such mining operations, it shall be deemed a misdemeanor, for which such offender or offenders shall be arrested as for a misdemeanor, and he or they shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three months, and fined not more than one thousand dollars.

Sec. 9 Any foreigner who may obtain a license in conformity with the provisions of this Act, shall be allowed to work the mines anywhere in this State, under the same regulations as citizens of the United States.

Sec. 10. It shall be the duty of each Collector of licenses to foreign miners to keep a full and complete register of the names and description of all foreigners taking out licenses, and a synopsis of all such licenses, to be returned to the Treasurer.

Sec. 11. Each license, when sold, shall be endorsed by the Collector selling or issuing the same, and shall be in no case transferable; and the Collector may retain out of the money received for each licese, the sum of three dollars, which shall be the full amount of his compensation.

Sec. 12. Each Collector of licenses to foreign miners shall, once in every two months, and oftener, if called upon by the Treasurer, proceed to the seat of government, settle with the Treasurer, pay over to that officer all moneys collected from foreigners not before paid over, and account with him for the unsold licenses remaining in his hands.

Sec. 13. If any Collector shall neglect or refuse to perform his duty as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the Comptroller, upon receiving a notice thereof from the Treasurer, to give information thereof to the District Attorney in whose district said officer may have been appointed, who shall bring an action against such Collector and his sureties upon his bond, before any court of competent jurisdiction; and upon recovery had thereon, the said District Attorney shall receive for his services ten per cent. upon the amount collected, the balance to be paid by him into the treasury in the manner provided by law for like payments.

Sec. 14. It shall be the duty of the Governor, so soon as he shall have been officially informed of the passage of a law by the United States Congress, assuming the control of the mines of the State, to issue his proclamation, requiring all Collectors of licenses to foreign miners to stop the issuing of licenses.

Sec. 15. It shall be the duty of the Governor of State, immediately after the passage of this Act, to have two thousand copies each, in English and Spanish, printed and sent to the mining districts for circulation among the miners, and also to have the same published for thirty days in the Pacific News at san Francisco, and in some newspaper at Sacramento City and at Stockton. AN ACT

TO PREVENT THE IMPORTATION OF CONVICTS INTO THIS STATE.

The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. No captain or master of any vessel, or any other person or persons shall knowingly or willingly import, bring or send, or cause or procure to be imported, brought or sent, or be aiding or assisting therein, into this State, by land or water, any felon, convict or person under sentence of death or transportation, or any other legal disability incurred by a criminal prosecution, except for treason, or who shall be delivered or sent to him from any prison or place of confinement in any place without this State.

Sec. 2. Every person who shall offend against any of the provisions of the preceding section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail, for a term not less than three months, and shall forfeit and pay moreover the sum of one thousand dollars for each of such convicts so imported, brought or sent into this State; one half of which penalty shall go to him or her who shall sue or prosecute for the same, and the other half to the county in which such prosecution shall be had.

Sec. 3. This act to take effect and be in force from and after thirty days' publication of the same in the "Pacific News."

JOHN BIGLER,
Speaker of the House of Assembly.
JOHN McDOUGALL,
President of the Senate.

Approved, April 11th, 1850.

EMPIRE CITY.

FOR Sonorian Camp, Wood's Diggings, Sullivan's, Hawkins's and Don Pedro's Bars, head waters of Tuolumne, Mercedes, and Mariposa Rivers; also, to head waters of san Joaquin and King's River FREIGHT OR PASSAGE TO EMPIRE CITY, TUOLUMNE. DURFEE & TOWNSEND have established a daily line of sailing vessels from san Francisco to the above city, situated on the south easterly bank of the Tuolumne river, thirty-five miles above its mouth, and are prepared to carry freight or passengers.

This route is the only one which can be really said to extend, by water, to the very gold field. The city stands at the head of navigation on the Tuolumne river, where the low hills of the Sierra Nevada meet the plains of the san Joaquin, and is not only accessable by sufficient water at all seasons of the year, but the roads to the mines, from that point, are good in wet or dry weather. Goods shipped to Empire City, Tuolumne, save from 25 to 60 miles of land carriage over any other depot for that gold region, avoiding soft roads, expensive ferriage, and personal discomfort.

Persons shipping goods, or taking passage, may rely upon promptness in dispatch, speed in transit, and great saving in time and expense.

For freight or passage, apply to messrs. Turner, Fish & co., foot of Jackson street, san Francisco, or to the subscribers, Empire City, Tuolumne. April 29, 1850.

EMPIRE AND CRESCENT CITIES.

THE survey of this town being completed at the head of navigation on the Tuolumne river, and numerous lots sold and houses erected, designed originally to bear the name of Crescent city, the subscribers, owners of lots in said town, learning that a plot of ground on the northwesterly bank of said river, two miles below, surveyed and laid out last year, still insists upon its rights and advantages as a place for a city, have concluded to leave to the town plot alluded to the beautiful name of Cresent city, and adopt one quite as appropriate, if not so beautiful.—Henceforth, therefore, we claim the name of Empire city. The map will be deposited in the proper offices, and the change in name noted.

Empire city stands on the southeasterly bank of the Tuolumne river, and is the only point accessible by water at all seasons, immediately contiguous to the gold fields of Tuolumne, Merced, Mariposa and San Joaquin rivers. It is at the head of navigation on the Tuolumne river, 35 miles from its mouth. Those persons wishing a settlement in the country are desired to visit it, and examine its advantages over any of its competitors. Signed—Philo Durfee, Edwin D. Townsend, Wm. J. Marcy, W. H. Willson, Joseph E. Miller, Wm. M Rowlett, Thomas J. L. Smiley, David Turner, Edward S. Townsend, Edward Conway, Henry E Perrine, J. B. Lattimer.

TO THE PUBLIC.

SEMI-WEEKLY PAPER AT MARYSVILLE.

THE UNDERSIGNED is about to establish a semi-weekly newspaper at the town of Marysville, under the title of the MARYSVILLE HERALD. In politics its position will be independent. Bound to none, it will lend what influence it may have to all such measures as the necessities of the State may demand, without regard to their origin. It will aim to be a medium of correct information from the Northern mines, in the very heart of which it is to be published; while, as an instrument by which men of business in San Francisco and Sacramento city, can make themselves known to their REAL customers, it will have no superior in California, for its circulation will be confined almost wholly to the miners, upon whom the merchants and dealers must to a large extent rely for their success. For the miners, who are unabe to obtain papers from the Atlantic States, full abstracts of all important sayings and doings at home will be given, together with whatever else occasion and fitness may demand. It is proposed to issue the first number on or about the first of June.
